BOY SCOUT NEWS NOTES

BY T. H. S. M.

It gives me great pleasure and encouragement to note how the local inhabitants are backing up the First Carbon Troop. At the moment of writing, our bank balance is low, and as the camping season steadily approaches, we will, I am confident, the Northern Hemisphere are making a drive for funds for the necessary camps (which are the backbone of scouting).

To sollicit money for funds is not allowed by the Scout Association, as beneath the dignity of the Association, and the boys have to earn every cent they have in their bank account, except for expenses, straight donations. Hence our selling of flags for the Coronation Celebrations and the selling of tickets for the forthcoming Concert and Dance to raise funds for camp.

When the concert and dance is over, our next attention will be the ceremony. By the way, one, starting in on that job can hardly be called "unemployed". There appears to be sufficient work there for a small army.

The boys are doing their best to help those who are so kind in helping to make the Beacon a success. They also wish to say that they found great pleasure in listening to the remarks passed by Senator St. John (M.P.) prior to his lighting of the Beacon, and were very glad to have Mayor S. J. Garrett light the first of the rockets.

Many people missed the artistes of all kinds at the sparkling torchlight. Those who had them travelled up and down the slopes back to the Village, and from on top of "Union Hill" it looked like so many "fairy" lights, (yes, the stars were out) and the windows and houses were illuminated to music.

Lashty, we heartily thank Mr. Alex Reid for his kindness in allowing us to use his land for the Beacon Celebrations.

A three hour shower on Friday evening benefited crops in the district to some extent, and on Sunday night another shower of rain fell in the district, and the weather has been cool and the moisture has been welcome and will greatly aid the new growth. Cool weather has followed the rain and it is to be hoped that we get a heavy rain before the weather clears off.

Preservation Of Democracy

In these days of international strife and internal controversy, with protagonists of Fascism and Communism in the saddle in some countries and with Hitler and Mussolini at the gates of Europe, based in other realms, the people of Western Canada may easily ready to be thankful that they are citizens of a country where democracy reigns—a country in which the people themselves have the right to say what they want and in which the peaceful progress of the nation is not a problem.

Years ago I frequently expressed, however, that democratic countries are in danger of being overwhelmed by the fighting forces of dictator ruled countries and that democracy is in peril of extinction. No doubt there have been some grounds for such fears, but to-day the greatest danger to self-government comes from within rather than without.

The British, I am glad to say, are fully aware of the fact that the people of this country are not prepared to surrender their liberties to any form of dictatorship, whether group or individual. The rights of free speech and freedom of action are cherished and there are few who would relinquish them in favor of benefits, imagined or real, which would result from abandonment of the principles of democracy.

But if those rights and privileges are to be preserved, it is essential that the standard of education of the people be high and that they be of strong moral fibre; for in a democracy it is a sine qua non that the leaders of government must possess these attributes in high degree and it is also a fundamental principle of democracy that the electorate has the right to elect those who give them their authority or they will not be in office very long. So that in the final analysis the type of government that the people of a democracy get depends upon themselves and is no higher than they deserve. Hence the importance of an enlightened, intelligent and unselfish electorate if democracy is to be preserved in an age of conflict between principles and despots.

This thought is very ably expressed by James Truslow Adams in the New York Times Magazine as summarized by the Reader's Digest in the following words:

"Just as a despot may be benevolent or cruel, so a people which governs man may be educated, wise, public spirited or the reverse," and amplifying this idea:

"Bold democracy and the vision of a very high standard of material living for all are, in my mind, selfish. He looks first to the good of himself and his own group of relatives, rather than to the good of all. Pressure groups arise. If such groups learn what they have done, to use the machinery of democratic government more rapidly than they develop the social and moral spirit, that can alone sustain democracy, it is far from unlikely that they may destroy the finances of the State, pull down the standard of living, and bring about a reign of terror and distress by giving up the dangerous and difficult adventure of self-government to men who will promise a false security."

"There is also the race, which may be lost, between education and the increasingly complex demands on government. Few, if any, are the citizens, who are not affected to some extent, after whom have read the latest news on our diverse topics, say, the price regulation, labor legislation, foreign affairs. In so far as a pure democracy tends to make rubber stamps of its representatives and to play on their fears for favors demanded, it will tend to make costly and perhaps fatal mistakes."

After such a theory of government is more or less adopted,

"On the other hand, the mental and spiritual—the peoples to-day under a Mussolini, a Hitler or a Stalin does not indicate that the wisdom of one promises better conditions for all than the folly of the many. The desire for power, the desire for domination, the desire for conditions for a contented, wholesome, free and full life, than that they are in the Scandinavian countries, the British Empire and the United States."

"There are, however, these and other insidious mental and moral problems for democracies as for individuals. A man who does not bother to consider himself as a citizen of a country, and who does not care to others, declines to work if he can be supported by somebody else, who thinks he has a right to all he wants, who thinks only of claims and not of duties, and so on, is not likely to be a success. Neither is a democracy made up of such."

Food Prices Climbing

Bureau Of Statistics Reports Increase In Living Costs

The cost of living is climbing. The general index of the cost of living for Canada, computed by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, was 82.2 in April as compared with 82.0 in March.

The retail price index of foods rose from 75.7 in March to 76.3 in April. Considering gains in the price of a wide range of foods including butter, lard, flour, bread, sugar, tea, codfish and several meats, although moderate decreases occurred for eggs, corn, potatoes, turnips, carrots, onions and cod. There were no changes of any importance recorded for other budgetary groups.

Had To Be Right

But Affairs Name To Sales Slip

A gentleman had completed his purchase and the clerk, in filling out the sales slip, asked:

"What is the name, please?"

"Oh, Japan," replied our hero.

"Chippy."

"No, Japan. Sixteen twenty-one West—"

"Your first initial, please."

"G—"

"Oh, Japan."

"Excuse me, it isn't O. K. You didn't understand me; I said 'Oh'."

"O. Jepson."

"Now, pull out the O, and let the stand!"

The clerk began to look haggard.

"Will you please give me your initials again?"

"Pardon, you said O. K."

"I said 'Oh'..."

"Just now you said K—"

"Allow me to finish, I said 'O. K.'"

I didn't understand what you were asking me. I didn't mean it was my initial. My name is Kirby Jepson."

"Oh—"

"Not O, but K. Here, give me the pencil and I'll write it myself. There, I guess it's O.K. now—Annuals Log."

By actual test, handwriting in pencil requires nearly five times as much light to be legible as writing in ink.

Farm Machinery Business

Staging A Comeback In Western Canada After Many Years

After seven lean years, the farm implement business is picking up in Western Canada.

The prairie farmer is once again buying tractors and making heavy overhauled replacement of farm machinery, implement company officials at Winnipeg said.

One company reported 50 per cent increase in sales in the first four months of this year compared with the same period last year. Other companies also reported considerable increases.

Practicing high prices for wheat and optimistic crop conditions in Manitoba and parts of Saskatchewan and Alberta have led to the buying with a vengeance.

The implement business has been in a slump since 1929 and for the past seven years farmers' demand for farm machinery in Western Canada has dwindled in spite of good grain prices, bright and general economic instability.

Special Type Of Glasses

Enable Wearer To Read Comfortably When Lying Down

"Recreant spectacles"—glasses for invalids and others who have to lie more or less at right angles to the horizon—have been added to the public for the first time at the British Industries Fair. These spectacles enable the wearer to see clearly at least at right angles to the horizon. They consist of a frame and a pair of prisms, which project incoming rays of light in such a way that the wearer can read a book held comfortably at arm's length, resting the head on a pillow. The glasses could not be read at all, ordinarily, without raising the head from the pillow. Corrective lenses for righting defects of eyesight in the usual way can be combined with the two-prism device.

New Scientific Finds

Were Discussed At Annual Meeting Of Virginia Academy

A new type of high speed rotor which spins freely in space, Dr. Fred T. Holman of the University of Virginia, may prove to be of great value in overhauling replacement of farm machinery, implement company officials at Winnipeg said.

One company reported 50 per cent increase in sales in the first four months of this year compared with the same period last year. Other companies also reported considerable increases.

Practicing high prices for wheat and optimistic crop conditions in Manitoba and parts of Saskatchewan and Alberta have led to the buying with a vengeance.

The implement business has been in a slump since 1929 and for the past seven years farmers' demand for farm machinery in Western Canada has dwindled in spite of good grain prices, bright and general economic instability.

HALTING THE ELLIPTIC

The story of life should be that of a growth from infancy to mental as well as physical maturity. Unfortunately there are many folk who fit it extremely difficult to grow up.

It is the secret of the reason that so many young folk never develop enough on the spiritual plane to make a successful marriage to see that romantic love must grow into something finer and lasting, that is real and genuine appreciation of the other partners ability and willingness to share and to face the problems of life, especially identification with another personality. It is just as important to grow up in love as it is to fall in love. Very few novels have anything to say about the spiritual part of life.

After marriage growth towards maturity ought to continue. My point may be briefly illustrated. The "Joneses" have been married for eight years and are still the same. They have not been dissatisfied. In other words, they are progressively shutting themselves in. When you shut yourself in for any reason you thereby shut out many worthwhile gifts and blessings that accrue from other folk. Their expedition in to the discovery of life and its riches is halted.
